GLADIOLUS

Make larger planting of fewer varieties to secure massed color effects. Large bulbs should be purchased for best results to give largest blooms the first season. Medium sizes give good spikes and small bulbs may or may not bloom, but grow into large blooming bulbs for next year.

ASTERS

Last year we cut the choicest blooms from approximately an acre of Asters. This was the largest and finest commercial crop in the entire Northwest. Our strain was free from wilt. Strong plants are offered of Crego Giants, Early Branching, Royals, Heart of France, and others in assortment, from May 25 to June 20. We do not grow or recommend earlier Asters which are nearly always subject to Aster Wilt. 25 Plants $1.00; 125 Plants $4.00, By Express Collect.

IRIS

Our display garden contains thousands of clumps in endless variety. Clumps and divisions ready in August.

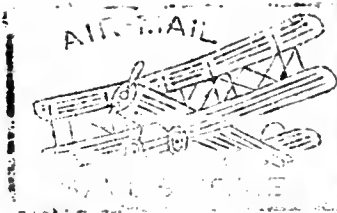

FRUIT TREES

We operate the largest orchard in the most northern and coldest part of the United States. This planting contains many hundreds of trees of the newer hybrid plums, apples and crabapples. Ask us for information as to the varieties suited to this climate and let us obtain the hardy kinds for you.

VISITORS WELCOME

You are cordially invited to see our ORCHARD in bloom in May, our IRIS in June, and our wonderful display of GLADIOLUS in August and September. Truly the sight of a hundred thousand or more Gladiolus in bloom is worth seeing. One-Quarter Mile north of State University.
